The Bach, Handel, Scarlatti series anticipates the Tercentenary of these three composers with seven lectures and recitals.

DOUGLAS FINCH

In his native city of Winnipeg, Douglas Finch was an early student of both piano and composition and worked with prominent Canadian composers and pianists, including Greta Kraus and William Aide, before enrolling in the Juilliard School of Music in New York, assisted by a Canada Council grant, where he studied with Beveridge Webster. Since 1976, Mr. Finch has captured many awards including the grand prize at the Canadian Music Competitions (1982) in London, Ontario, and recently he received critical acclaim from the international jury and press at the International Bach Competition in Washington, D.C. where he was awarded third prize.
